INTRODUCTION.

FORTY-SIX years had elapsed after Flower's Heraldic Visitation of Lancashire, in the early part of the reign of queen Elizabeth, before another Visitation was made in the early part of the reign of her successor. In the interval, education and commerce had effected great changes in the state of society, and the learned works on heraldry, genealogy and ceremonies, by Glover, Segar, Camden and Milles, had imparted much importance to the study of those feudal subjects. It was held that heraldic distinctions preserved the remembrance of military prowess, supported hereditary rank, and illustrated national history and antiquities. Churches and castles, monuments, windows and pavements, family bearings and numismatics, were all connected with the study of heraldry. It thus became an object of interest to many of the old territorial families publicly to record their title to their armorial bearings, and to register their descents when it had not already been done, and to perpetuate it when it had. But this observance was not general, especially in Lancashire. The number of families who answered the summons of the heralds continued very slowly to increase, notwithstanding the increase of new and opulent families. At the first visitation in 1533 there had been recorded the arms and descents of thirty-three houses; at the second visitation in 1567 the number had increased to one hundred and twelve; and in the third visitation in 1613 to one hundred and twenty-four. But as a proof of the little general interest felt in the matter in Lancashire, fifty-six families who had appeared in 1567, absented themselves in 1613, and only forty-three families appeared, by their representatives, at both the visitations; so that in a period of nearly half a century only twenty-two fresh entries were made, and of these, two, at least, ought to have been recorded in the visitation of Cheshire,<sup>1</sup> one in that of Middlesex,<sup>2</sup> and another,<sup>3</sup> perhaps, not at all.

There were two qualifications which guided the heralds in summoning gentlemen to appear before them at the visitations. The one was that the individual should be found in the list of the great freeholders of the county, and the other that he should be eligible to serve on grand juries. On these grounds we seldom meet with the clergy at the visitations, although after the reformation, as a rule, they used arms and not merely ecclesiastical badges and devices. Lancashire had only two noblemen when this visitation was made, but they did not appear by deputy or otherwise, and the reason is obvious. The peerage has always been under the jurisdiction of Garter, whose rule is quite independent of Clarendieux or Norroy, and no commission was ever issued to him to "visit." The provincial kings, Clarendieux and Norroy, had defined and limited powers, and were only authorized to take notices of gentlemen holding rank inferior to that of the peerage.

In this Visitation the only visible progress or improvement is to be found in the mode of registration, the narrative form being abandoned, and the tabular form introduced. The statements for the most part are still vague and meagre, and the results unsatisfactory, dates and documents being generally avoided, or when introduced they sometimes elude the attempt to prove their authenticity or to confute their genuineness. Norroy carried out the existing system and there was no divergence from it for at least half a century; and then came a change for the better, which has continued, with improvements, to the present time.

The Visitation book now printed, being the original manuscript, has not been collated with an official copy by St. George remaining in the Heralds' college, although the genealogies printed on pp. 130-135 are supplied from it, as they are omitted in the Harleian volume. It would involve the expenditure of much time and labour to collate the various transcripts of the several visitations extant at the same period, and almost futile to attempt to account for the marvellous discrepancies that occur in them all. From these discrepancies arises the uncertainty of genealogical information at almost any former time. It may perhaps be admitted without dispute, that unless pedigrees have been well sifted, according to the present usage of the College of arms, and subjected almost to legal proof by documentary evidence, extraneous to viva voce testimony (which was the general mode of taking information at the visitations), little or no dependence can be placed upon them. Traditionary evidence and oral communications are insufficient proof. Daily experience shows that different members of the same family, in giving testimony of their arms and descent, make statements equally conflicting and equally absurd with those made at this visitation; and when the stern test of contemporaneous documentary proof is applied, it is not unfrequently found that the whole fabric of an old pedigree<sup>4</sup> is in a state of very doubtful security.

It is apparent that at this visitation the heads of houses themselves did not always see to the correct registration of their arms and descents. They commissioned their attorneys<sup>5</sup> or stewards<sup>6</sup> or a younger son<sup>7</sup> to record such evidence as they had at hand, and these officials sometimes attested by their signature the correctness of their statements, doubtless made to the best of their knowledge, information, and belief, the first however being often superficial, the next small, and the last capacious. Where the pedigrees are not authenticated by the signature of the head of the family who made the entry, the errors appear to be the most startling; and there is sometimes a sad absence of information even where the squire himself appeared. A gentleman attested his genealogy of eight lineal descents, but entered on the record neither the name of his wife nor his mother, nor the name of one female ancestor except that of a great heiress who had conveyed her estate to his family about two centuries before, and he had to retire from the court with the mortifying information that he had no allowance of arms.<sup>8</sup> In two pedigrees, the one of fifteen<sup>9</sup> and the other of eight<sup>10</sup> generations in direct lineal descent, only one marriage in each case is recorded. There are nine generations of the Radcliffes on record without the name of one wife,<sup>11</sup> and in the third generation of the Hoghtons the eldest son is named Thomas,<sup>12</sup> and he having no heir male is said to have been succeeded by his brother bearing the same christian name, being the sons of the same parents, whereas we know from another source that they were brothers in half-blood only. Another instance of two sons of the same father bearing the same christian name<sup>13</sup> is accurately recorded by the intelligent head of the house, who, like his grandfather, an old and sagacious lawyer, who had died three years before, was fully alive to the importance of legal evidence.<sup>14</sup> An error which seems to be inexplicable is found in another pedigree,<sup>15</sup> where there are three sons living, two of them being named Thomas; one of these is recorded as the "first" son, and aged a year and a half, the other as the "second" son, and the eldest son is described as being of the age of 12 years; their parents being alive, and all their offspring being the grand-children of the attorney-general of the Duchy of Lancaster, and the father who verified these incongruous statements being a learned councillor at law. It seemed to be unnecessary to record that the four daughters of a gentleman were "co-heiresses" when the youngest was only two years of age and the parents still living.<sup>16</sup> These are passages which require no Ralph Brooke to parade a "Discoverie of errors," and will find no Camden to vindicate them. In one instance four generations of the same house were living at the time of the visitation, and the patriarch of the family at the age of 95 years ought to have supplied more copious evidence regarding his forbears.<sup>17</sup>

The sort of proof required and brought for the information of the heralds seems to have been various, but in the greater number of cases parole evidence was tendered and accepted. Bradshaw of Bradshaw produced two precious letters:<sup>18</sup> one of them from Henry Percy, the first earl of Northumberland, K.G., the father of Hotspur, and with whom Bradshaw the young Lancashire soldier had probably served and fought at Chevy Chace and elsewhere, in the reign of Richard II.; and the other letter was probably from sir William Harrington, the second and brave son of Nicholas Harrington of Huyton Hey, esq., in the time of Henry VI. These letters had been addressed to some members of the Bradshaw family who could not have their place assigned on the face of the pedigree, although the letters had been so carefully preserved, but the result was satisfactory in another respect, as the old arms were recognized and entered, and it is to be regretted that the letters also were not "entered" in extenso.

Travers brought his ancient muniments from the time of Edward I. to Henry VII. in proof of his descent and armorial rights, and the lineal succession was satisfactorily deduced, although the herald could not decide which of the two old seals containing arms, then presented to him, ought to be borne by the house.<sup>19</sup>

In one instance there is a reference to Holinshed, the historian, to establish a fact.<sup>20</sup>

Hindley produced his evidences and described his descent well for at least three centuries, but was not allowed to bear arms.<sup>21</sup>

Winckley also produced his charters from a remote age and proved succession, but the legend of an ancient seal of arms which was inspected being partly decayed or defaced, the armorial bearing was not allowed.<sup>22</sup>

Ashhurst also was able to bring forward the treasures

from his muniment chest<sup>23</sup> and to prove a great deal, being probably proud of his descent; so that when the head of an old house felt an interest in the subject, streams of evidence poured in and the cause of heraldry and genealogy was upheld in what has been considered its dazzling and palmy age.

But few gentlemen were as pretentious and ambitious as Gellibrand, who mounted up to the Norman Conquest and supported himself in his airy flight and shadowy claim by bringing forward a document, with an exact date, of the 11th century — “5 W. Conq.,”<sup>24</sup> — which might perchance be proof positive to Norroy of either simple credulity or of incautious audacity on the squire’s part touching the evidence submitted.

The heralds of 1533 and 1613 appear alike to have waged war with the wealthy family of Holt of Stubble and Castleton, who could fairly boast of high local rank and influence.<sup>25</sup> At the first named visitation Tonge recorded that “Robart Holt of Stubble had marrd an ould woman and woud not enter” his pedigree, which, notwithstanding, was entered by somebody in 1567,<sup>26</sup> and “the ould woman” had certainly female issue. Robert, the nephew and heir male of Robert Holt the elder, had, also, only surviving daughters, the eldest of whom, Mary, married her kinsman, Charles Holt, and continued the line. This Charles Holt’s father is called a “yeaman,” and in the estimation of a herald of that day such he might be; but he was assuredly “descended out of the house of Stubbley,” and had a very considerable estate in the parish of Bury, although he might lack the advantage of the education and social position of his cousin, the head of the house in Rochdale parish, who was an active justice of the peace in the reign of Henry VIII., and connected by descent and marriage with some good knightly families. This is an instance of the arbitrary manner in which country gentlemen were sometimes treated by the kings of arms. Charles Holt of Stubbley, jure uxoris, and related to her in the third degree of consanguinity, was not an illiterate man, as he wrote a fair hand; intelligently defended the just rights of the poor chapels of Saddleworth and Milnrow in 1561; boldly opposed the wrongful dealing of sir John Byron with church property; promoted the principles of the Reformation; and was one of archbishop Parker’s correspondents on the founding of Rochdale grammar school. It is to be noticed that the herald styles the family in 1613, “but yeamen” and having “noe coat at all,” and yet Charles Holt himself had arms allowed by Flower in 1567.<sup>27</sup>

The statement of the marriage of Nicholas Townley<sup>28</sup> is singularly incorrect, and some years ago proved a difficulty to an indefatigable genealogist, who was tracing his family descent. After a laborious investigation of evidences, public and private, the difficulty, I have reason to know, was ultimately surmounted, and St. George’s egregious error was rectified to the satisfaction of his able successor, sir Charles G. Young, Garter. Nicholas Townley married Lettice, daughter and coheirress of William Talbot of Shuttleworth hall, near Padiham, and the widow of Edmund Asheton of Chaderton, esq. Of the three pedigrees of Townley,<sup>29</sup> one records the descendants of a collateral of the Royle family, settled at Littleton, co. Middlesex, and seems out of place in a visitation of Lancashire.

The herald who visited Lancashire in 1613 was Richard St. George, esq., who claimed to be descended from a family of his name who had held the manor of Hatley St. George in Cambridgeshire during five centuries, and who had become connected by marriage with several distinguished and noble houses. He was a man of respectable learning, and had acquired considerable heraldic knowledge. In the year 1602 his great ambition was gratified on his being appointed a Pursuivant extraordinary. His rise was rapid, as in the same year he became Windsor herald by patent dated 18th December 45 Elizabeth 1602, and Norroy by signet in January 1603-4, but his patent for that office was not dated until 24th January 1607, and on the 17th December 1623 he was created Clarencieux by patent. On the 28th September 1616 he received the honour of knighthood. Whilst Norroy he was indefatigable in personally holding visitations in various counties, being attended by his deputies. In 1613 his son Henry, who two years before had purchased the office of Blue Mantle of his predecessor, accompanied his father into Lancashire, and some of the pedigrees and tricking of arms in the Visitation book now printed are written and tricked by him. Sir Richard St. George has the reputation, in the College of arms, of having been an able and industrious officer, possessed of ability to grasp a complicated subject of descent, and to master its details and legal bearings in a clear and satisfactory manner. He had the privilege of ranking amongst his personal friends, sir Robert Cotton, Camden, Spelman and Weaver, all kindred spirits, and all cultivating the same branches of learning.

He died at his house in High Holborn, co. Middlesex, on Whitsunday, the 17th May 1635, and was buried in the chancel of St. Andrew's church, Holborn, on the Friday following. His will was proved 26th May 1635 in the Prerogative court of Canterbury (83 Sadler), of which he made his eldest son (afterwards Garter) sole executor. He married Elizabeth, eldest daughter of Nicholas St. John of Lidyard Tregoza, co. Wilts, esq., ancestor of the viscounts St. John and Bolinbroke, by whom he had issue five sons and three daughters. Of these the eldest son, Sir Henry St. George, knighted by the king of Sweden, was a zealous royalist, attended upon the king at Oxford, was there created D.C.L., and, having risen through all the gradations of the College of arms, became Garter.<sup>30</sup> He seems to have been well skilled in the duties of his profession which were afterwards discharged by his two sons, sir Thomas<sup>31</sup> and sir Henry,<sup>32</sup> who both rose successively to the high office of Garter. The fourth son of sir Richard settled in Ireland as Ulster king of arms, was knighted, and had a son Oliver created a baronet. George, eldest son of the baronet, was ennobled in 1714-15 by the title of baron Hatley St. George, of the co. of Roscommon, and the family long flourished in Ireland.<sup>33</sup>

Although this Visitation was made in the year 1613, there are a few additions and interpolations of a more recent date, which were not made by the visiting heralds, Norroy and Blue Mantle. The pedigrees are, however, chiefly in the handwriting of sir Richard St. George, and some are written by his son. There are also a few additions of arms and some continuations to divers descents, which will be easily perceived, being the handy-work of John Withie, who, like Camden's father, was a painter-stainer,<sup>34</sup> but of whom nothing more is known. It may be feared that he had neither skilful training nor sage experience to qualify him for the office he assumed. Of these additions reference may be made to the pedigree of Humfrey Chetham entered in 1635,<sup>35</sup> at which time the family arms were "confirmed" to the great Manchester benefactor by sir Henry St. George, Garter, who had upwards of twenty years before visited Lancashire as Blue Mantle.

On the face of the pedigree of Preston of Furness manor<sup>36</sup> recorded by the head of the house, who gave in the information and signed the office book, the last generation was a subsequent addition, as there are the dates 1615, 1621 and 1623.

Blundell of Ince Blundell did not complete his pedigree until the year 1614,<sup>37</sup> which may account for the details being more exact and copious than many of the others, and also why it was not entered during the visitation of Norroy in Lancashire. This may also account for its not being verified by Mr. Blundell's signature.

The pedigree of Walmesley<sup>38</sup> is not authenticated by any signature, and the date 1637 is an interpolation.

The statements regarding Chadwick of Healey,<sup>39</sup> made apparently upon the authority of a judge and sustained by apparently legal and heraldic documents, although not authenticated or subscribed by the person who gave the information, are altogether fabulous, and probably the "handy-work" of John Withie, as Dr. John Chadwick in 1613 is said to be chaplain to king Charles I. There is not a better evidenced pedigree in the College of arms, supported by a series of family deeds and authentic documents, than that of Chadwick of Healey; and the attempt to unite the Nottinghamshire Chadwicks with those of Lancashire by colonel John Chadwick, his pains-taking and well-informed son Charles Chadwick, F.S.A., and J. C. Brooke, esq., Somerset herald, was a complete failure. It was supposed by these exact and cautious genealogists that the Irish judge (whose son James married Mary, daughter and coheirress of archbishop Tillotson), was a very remote connection of Chadwick of Chadwick, but the connecting link was wanting. Their surname alone proved them of Lancashire and Saxon origin, and traditionally at least they were descended from Chadwick of Healey, bore the same silver martlets on their shield, and the same white lily for their crest.<sup>40</sup>

<sup>35</sup> p. 87; and for the correspondence on the subject with the heralds see Lanc. MSS. In Moule's Bibliotheca Heraldica, p. 583, this pedigree is erroneously stated to have been compiled by sir Richard St. George. He was dead at the time.

As this Visitation book became the property of the nation with lord Harley's library about the year 1753, it is obvious that the additions to the pedigree of Prestwich of Hulme were made whilst the MS. was in his lordship's possession, about or a little after the year 1744-5.<sup>41</sup> The writer was undoubtedly the Irish author of the Respublica, published 4to, 1787, and who himself, notwithstanding his Quixotic claim to the extinct baronetcy which he assumed, shows by these manuscript notes that he had no legal title to it. He had been invested with a trust in the loan of the manuscript, and by making these additions it may be feared that he had abused the confidence placed in him. The amount of clumsy work done by him, here and elsewhere, exacts little praise.

The manuscript now printed is written on paper in folio size, and consists, with the index, of 127 folios; it is in good preservation, and is marked in the Harl. Bib. 1437.

A few memorable names occur in this visitation which we are glad to connect with the palatinate:

ROGER DODSWORTH,<sup>43</sup> educated at Warton school, near Lancaster, and who married Holcroft, daughter of Robert Hesketh of Rufford, esq.

gent., and of his wife Agnes, daughter of James Heywood of Heywood, gent. He was educated at Christ's college, Cambridge, and became B.A. in 1579, and M.A. in 1583. He afterwards removed to Emmanuel college, and was elected senior fellow at the first foundation of the college in 1584; was President of the college 10th December 1588; took the degree of B.D. in 1589; was instituted to the rectory of Woodham Ferrers in Essex, 30th January 1601; and was styled D.D. in 1607. He was chaplain to queen Elizabeth and to James I., and also to Thomas Howard earl of Suffolk. Having always had an affectionate regard for his Rochdale relatives, he died unmarried 4th May 1627, the probate of his will bearing date 9th June 1625, by which he leaves to his nephew John Chadwick all his books and library, and all his estates in Woodham Ferrers, by name, Nutting, Motes, Foxholes, Duseuncolls, Archdens, Chandlers, Parler, and Jackes house; to his brother Robert Chadwick of Healey hall, his Geneva Bible in folio, and the Book of Martyrs, with one silver bowl double gilt, with cover over the top, to remain to his brother's wife; to Richard Ashworth his servant, 20*l.* a year for life, and then 10*l.* thereof to the poor within the hamlet of Healey; to Edward Harris of Baddow in Essex, esq., 5*l.* In a letter to his brother Robert, dated 7th May 1616, he writes thus: "I sent Dick Entwisle to see your son John [afterwards rector of Standish] admitted, and I sent the tutor 6*l.*, as at entrance there are extraordinary charges. I would have you pay him regularly 3*s.* 4*d.* per quarter, and I will allow him 10*l.* a year till he is master of arts, whether I live or die, and if that wont do, I will make an addition." Dr. Charles Chadwick had a brother John, rector of Darfield in the county of York, and prebendary of Southwell, also of Christ's college, Cambridge; but as he did not become a doctor of divinity until the year 1614, the elder brother will be the individual who was to "give the herald further satisfaction" about the right of the family to bear arms. The proof was adduced, and the arms borne by this ancient family still remain, gules, an inescutcheon, within an orb of martlets, argent. This is the coat of Rochdale the Norman lords of Rochdale, differenced. The pedigree, with fifty quarterings, marshalled by John Charles Brooke, esq., Somerset herald, was recorded in the College of arms by John Chadwick, esq., and Charles Chadwick, esq., F.S.A., his son, in the year 1788. — (Lanc. MSS., vol. xiii. p. 136.)

† Robert Chadwick of Healey, gent., son and heir of John Chadwick above named, and of his wife Agnes (marriage covenant dated 8th February 1551), married Alice, daughter of Edward Butterworth of Belfield hall, Rochdale, gent., in the year 1581 (marriage covenant dated 22nd October 1581). He rebuilt the old mansion of Healey in 1618, being much encouraged by his brother Dr. Charles Chadwick. He was buried in Rochdale church 19th October 1625, at. about 73; she, on the 8th December 1628, having had issue three sons and four daughters. — (Lanc. MSS., vol. xiii. p. 138.)

‡ This name is unknown to me.

§ Richard, son and heir of Edmund Linney, gent., was the head of a respectable family of inferior gentry, long connected with the town of Rochdale. He was baptized there on the 19th May 1583, educated at the grammar school, and married 9th September 1606 Margaret, daughter of John Chadwick of Healey, gent., and had issue two sons, Richard and Edmund, and other children, all minors at his death. He died 21st March 1618-19, and his relict married 2nd August 1622 the rev. Richard Walker, M.A., master of the grammar school, Rochdale. He is probably the Mr. Linney who settled 2*l.* per annum on the master of the school, although not by his will, which is dated 12th March 1618-19. Amongst other legacies he gave to "Mr. Henry Tilston, clerke, vicar of Rochdale, his best Cloke and Greek Lexicon," and legacies to his brother-in-law Jordan Chadwick, gent., and to his uncles Dr. Charles Chadwick and Dr. John Chadwick. — (Lanc. MSS., vol. xiii. p. 272; Hist. Roch. Gram. School, p. 23.)

|| Thomas Healey of Rochdale was a wealthy yeoman, but made no proof of his right to arms. He was much connected with the Chadwicks of Healey, but not, perhaps, in blood. His father Thomas Healey of Lower Healey, yeoman, held lands there which he conveyed on the 22nd April, 4 Philip and Mary, to Robert Buckley of Buckley, gent., John Wolstenholm of Wolstenholm, gent., Arthur Whitehead of Dearnley and others, as feoffees in trust for the use of Robert Healey his eldest son and Elizabeth his wife, and their heirs male, and in default remainder to Thomas Healey his second son, and his heirs male in tail. — (Lanc. MSS., vol. xxi. p. 210.) Thomas Healey, gent., also held copyhold lands by deed dated 27th March, 30 Elizabeth, by surrender of John Lord of Clough house, and Henry Lord of Hatton house, yeomen; and on the 22nd September, 3 Car. 1628, Thomas Healey the younger was admitted to the same on the death of Mr. Thomas Healey, his uncle. On the 3rd July 1638, Thomas Healey of Birches, yeoman, surrendered these lands to Ottiwell Woolfenden of Hallsgrave. — (Ibid. p. 212.) The family never became heraldic.

¶ Oliver Chadwick of Chadwick, gent., was the head of the parent house of that name, from a younger son of which in the 15th century descended the Chadwicks of Healey, who continue to the present time, although they abandoned their old seat in the parish of Rochdale, as one of them, full of the noble instincts of a true English gentleman, sorrowfully observed, "when the prowess of Rochdale's esquires and gentlemen had dwindled into a mercantile race, and when the age of chivalry was no more." Oliver Chadwick, here named, was the eldest son of Roger Chadwick of Chadwick hall, gent., by his wife Isabel, daughter of Arthur Asheton of Rochdale, gent., and sister of William Asheton of Clegg hall, esq. He married Jane, daughter of Edmund Haslam of Falinge, gent., and dying on the 6th December 1621, 19 Jac., was buried in the chancel of Rochdale church, being succeeded by his only son and heir John Chadwick. — (Lanc. MSS., vol. xiii. p. 163.)
